CLAY COUNTY

Comes to the Front With Another of Her Famous Shooting Scrapes.

PORTO RICO'S EXCITEMENT

Mob of Natives Besieged School Superintendent Three Hours and Made Demonstration Against Americans.

SAY THAT HE MISTREATED A GIRL

London, March 8.—Another of Kentucky's famous fends has been reopened. During the circuit recess at Manchester, this county, yesterday, the two Garrard boys were in Attorney Kash's office filing bond for the release of Julie Webb, charged with the murder of Charles Hall, when several shots were fired from the court house, which is just across the street, by Hall's friends. "Toll" Garrard's hat was pierced by the first shot and the Garrard boys returned the fire. About sixty shots were fired from the court house and the windows in the law office were completely shattered and the occupants had many narrow escapes. There is great excitement in the town today and bloodshed is expected at any moment.

San Juan, Porto Rico, March 8.—A mob of natives besieged School Superintendent Armstrong for three hours last night and made threatening demonstrations against all Americans because they claimed the superintendent had mistreated a girl pupil. The charge is untrue. The crowd was so threatening that the American artillerymen were called to disperse them.

NOT RUNNING FOR SENATOR.

Hon. Ollie M. James, of Marion, who has often been mentioned as a Democratic candidate for congress in this district, and recently as a candidate for United States senator, has given out a statement that he will not be a candidate for the senatorship.

A DUKE'S UNCON.

SCIOUS HUMOR.

From the London Mainly About People:

On a hunting expedition the Grand Duke of Saxo-Weimar save a forester whose face seemed familiar to him.

"Are you not a brother of Chief Inspector Schmidt?" asked the duke.

"I am Chief Inspector Schmidt," said the man.

"Ah," said Serenissimus, "that accounts for the resemblance!"

Another time the grand duke was waiting at a small railway station in his train, and addressing two little girls playing near the signal box asked:

"Who is your father?"

"The station master."

"How old are you?"

"I am 5 and my sister 4; Serenissimus."

"How is that possible? Why, the line has only been opened three years!"

Uzar's Tendency to Easitudo.

The czar when a youth showed a tendency to lassitude, which pointed to a want of physical stamina. This disposition to physical exertion showed itself when he was visiting the queen at Balmoral, and the royal keepers were a little chagrined at the lack of enthusiasm which he displayed with regard to the deer stalking arranged for his diversion.

A BIG DEAL

The Mayfield Woolen Mills Absorbs the "Old Kentucky Mills," a Louisville Concern.

WILL REMOVE TO ST. LOUIS

The Big Mills Are Doing a Fine Business in St. Louis and Will Enlarge the Plant.

THE CAPITAL TO BE INCREASED ALSO

The Mayfield Woolen Mills of Mayfield and St. Louis have procured an option on the Old Kentucky mills of Louisville. The papers concluding the transfer will probably be signed today.

The Mayfield Woolen mills moved their salesroom from Mayfield to St. Louis last April, and their main office in October. The proprietors are so favorably impressed with the advantages of St. Louis as a distributing center that they have purchased the Louisville establishment and will remove the plant and such machinery as is available, to St. Louis. They propose to secure a site of from two to four acres and construct a large woolen factory. The buildings just purchased occupy a site a little in excess of two acres.

The present capital stock of the Mayfield Woolen mills is $300,000, about one-half that amount surplus. Plans are under way to increase the capital stock to a sum not less than $600,000.

The ceremony was performed at the residence of Mr. J. H. Quast, 1956 Sixth street, by Rev. Ernest Thompson. Mr. Hummel is a widely known and successful insurance agent.

ENCAMPMENT

ADT.-GEN. MURRAY HERE TO INVESTIGATE ADVANTAGES

Of Paducah—The Contest Is Between Paducah, Owensboro and Shelbyville—Favorable to Paducah.

The competition for the state guard encampment in August is between Paducah, Owensboro and Shelbyville.

Adjutant General David R. Murray and Assistant Secretary of State Harry G. Tandy, of Frankfort, arrived last evening, and held a conference with prominent citizens at the Palmer house last night.

This morning they were taken to La Belle park and the adjutant general shown the proposed site of the encampment.

While nothing definite is known as to which city the adjutant general will select, it is said that it will go to the city offering the best advantages in a camp site and the best inducements to bring the encampment there. Paducah offers decidedly the best advantages, having in addition to all the benefits of a city, those of a good camp besides, within three miles of the city, and easily reached by electric cars.

Owensboro will be visited next. It is thought that the chances are very favorable for Paducah getting the encampment this year.

It is said that the only thing necessary to secure the encampment for Paducah is a satisfactory rate over the Illinois Central.

One of the most quaint looking locomotives ever seen in Paducah is one belonging to the Kentucky Western road, a small railway running out of Blackford, Ky. It is now in the Illinois Central shops here for repairs.

LOWEST IN YEARS.

NEVER BUT ONCE IN 30 YEARS WAS THE CUMBERLAND RIVER AS LOW AS NOW.

The Cumberland river is now the lowest known in years. Capt. T. G. Ryman, at Nashville, has in his office a map which records the stage of the river every day for twenty years past.

This map shows that the river is now the lowest in twenty years with the exception of once. On March 1, 1886, the river was a trifle below its present stage.

Navigation is practically suspended. The Woodruff, Woolfolk, Thos. Parker, Fritz, Pavonia and other boats are all laid up in the upper river with their tows, the first at Ashland City and the others at Cumberland City. The Pavonia will begin work in the lower Cumberland as soon as she can get there.

A DAILY THOUGHT.

Write it on your heart that every day is the best day in the year. No man has learned anything rightly until he knows that every day is Doomsday.—Emerson.

"PUBLIC JOURNALS AND PUBLIC MORALS."

The Register of yesterday morning devotes a column and a half to a minutely detailed account of one of the most repulsive and degraded incidents of immorality that has ever come to our notice.

The Register's descriptions were so painstakingly vivid that, to one having read it, there was left in the nostrils, a stench that could only be compared to that pervading a district but just vacated by a pair of skunks in springtime.

Having regard for the fact that the Sun circulates at the bedside of a majority of the good people of this community and that such publications

"have a tendency to stimulate unholly desires in a direction too horrible to contemplate," the whole affair was entirely ignored by this paper. That such malefactors should be promptly and fully punished, should admit of denial on the part of nobody, but the officers of the law are an agency surely capable and we believe fully willing to properly deal with the case.

The Register reminds us of the accredited reputation of the professional Procureur. Not content with its own lack of virtue, it must rave because its neighbors are not of similar cast.

If it is good newspaper enterprise to enlarge on incidents like the Overby case, then The Sun is not a good newspaper.

Kentucky is being held up by the Democratic organs of some of the other states as a "horrible example" of the destructive effects of legislation enacted for the sole purpose of perpetuating in power a political machine. Since the Democratic party in Kentucky began to pass special legislation for partisan ends, of which the infamous Geobell law was the culmination, that party has steadily lost strength and prestige until now it is compelled to rely upon ballot box rackets and election thefts to hold itself in office. No other state in the north, west or south furnishes such an illustration of the complete demoralization of a political party as Kentucky gives in the disintegration of the Democratic party since it fell into the hands of the freebooters who are now in the saddle.

Senatorial courtesy is about to receive a knock-out blow. As far as can be learned "senatorial courtesy" consists chiefly in the privilege that any member of the senate has of making himself as objectionable as possible without let or hindrance. It also gives to a minority the power of obstructing legislation indefinitely even though the majority is impatient to reach a vote. It is now almost certain that a cloture rule will be adopted before the Fifty-seventh congress will have been in session many weeks, which will give the majority power to force a vote after a bill has been debated a reasonable length of time. Such a rule will exactly suit the strenuous vice president who will probably in any event give the time-honored senatorial courtesy a severe jar at the very first opportunity.

Ex-Senator Lindsay follows the steps of John G. Carlisle and will practice law in the city of New York. The principle of natural selection which now governs the Democratic party of Kentucky finds its highest type of a statesman in the person of Senator Blackburn, which is an unmistakable warning to men of ability that they had better look elsewhere for recognition than to the gang that is now shaping the political destinies of this state and incidentally shielding gamblers and other violators of law from punishment.

The beginning of hose manufacture at the knitting mills this week was an event of the greatest importance to Paducah. In order that any city may attain the greatest success or that its citizens may attain to the greatest general prosperity, there must be work for every person who desires to work. This work cannot be furnished if manufacturing is confined to one or two lines of business, or if none but men and boys are employed, while the women who desire work cannot find it. The establishment in Paducah of the Cohanus Mfg. Co. gave this city her first textile plant and furnished the first opportunity for the employment of many women. Since the establishment of that plant the pants factory has been established and now another one is soon to be put in operation. The knitting mills will also give employment to a large number of women. Thus Paducah will soon have in operation four plants making textile goods and clothing and giving steady and desirable employment to women.

The steel manufacturers of England are in a panic over the effects of American competition. The formation of the great steel trust by Carnegie and others has only added to the industrial depression and further invasions of the English market by American steel are awaited with dread. One of the leading labor leaders of England, who is also a member of parliament, recently made the startling admission that although wages in America are double those of the English workman, yet the cost of the labor in making a ton of steel in the United States is only one-half the cost in England.

The farmers are now having a picnic watching the antics of the candidates for county offices who are giving a continuous performance for the delectation of the rural voter. It is said that never before has such an aggregation of talent been turned loose in Western Kentucky as is now "cavorting" around through McCracken county willing to accept any old thing in the shape of a vote.

It now develops that the action of Senator Carter in talking the river and harbor bill to death was by no means a patriotic move but merely a piece of revenge, he and some other western senators being disappointed because no appropriation had been made for beginning the work of governmental irrigation in the arid districts of the west.

The Democratic newspapers, some of them, are indulging in lengthy dissertations on the "coming candidate for 1904," who will be and what ought he to be like. But in the meantime the editor of the Commoner out in Lincoln, Neb., is assiduously keeping himself before the public and when 1904 comes he will be on hand.

It is now claimed that the action of Governor Beckham in pardoning Alvey and the other gamblers was not done as payment of an election debt as some have very uncharitably supposed, but simply to establish once for all his sanction of the exalted principle of competition in gambling.

Newspaper men are always useful and good things to fall back on. Robert S. McCormack, managing editor of the Chicago Times-Herald, has just been appointed minister to Austria and Mr. Yerkes selects a popular Danville newspaper man for his confidential clerk.

When Mrs. Nation was in Peoria recently she visited the Great Western distillery, the largest in the world, and read the manager a severe lecture on his perverse ways. But at the latest accounts he had not resigned his position.

It is said that the defeat of the river and harbor bill and of the ship subsidy bill caused the Fifty-sixth congress to close with more "sore" members than any previous congress for many years.

Coffee is bad for the health, so the rumored coffee combination should not bother the average citizen.

"Uneasy lies the head that wears a crown." Emperor William got in the cheek yesterday.

Newspapers may come and newspapers may go but The Sun will remain forever.

The senators will find "Teddy" a serious proposition before it is done.

The Boers got in some more telling work yesterday.

IN THE PHILIPPINES.

The letter from Judge Taft, head of the Philippine commission to Secretary Root, contains much interesting reading. Peace seems near at hand. The federal party, an avowed and direct outgrowth of the election, has spread with wonderful rapidity in all parts of the archipelago and is active and urgent in its advocacy of peace and presenting the advantages of civil liberty under American sovereignty.

It was also instrumental in securing surrenders in Pampanga. The commission has organized a number of provincial governments and is meeting with much assistance from leading men of the islands. The commission is, indeed, doing fine work and the reports are very encouraging.

PRINCETON NEWS.

MARRIAGE THERE LAST NIGHT.

Princeton, Ky., March 8.—The $15,000 damage suit of Mrs. R. R. Pickering against E. H. Daniel for injuries sustained by reason of Daniel having shot her husband, has been continued till the June term of the circuit court. The suit occasioned much interest. Ollie James is attorney for plaintiff and Senator Fenton Sims and Ward Headley represent the defendant.

Taylor Hodge and Miss Nannie Traylor were married last evening at the residence of the bride's father, Dr. I. L. Traylor.

Mrs. W. A. James, one of the oldest citizens and most respected citizens of this city, is dead.

Mrs. P. O. Harbison was stricken with paralysis and is in a serious condition.

"I had a running sore on my leg for seven years," writes Mrs. Jas. Forest, of Chippawa Falls, Wis., "and spent hundreds of dollars in trying to get it healed. Two boxes of BANNER SALVE entirely cured it." No other salve so healing. J. C. Gilbert.

FINE FOXHOUND DIES.

Bowling Green, Ky., March 8.—"Black Maria," one of the best known foxhounds in the United States, died here from accidental poison. She was the property of Judge W. L. Dulany and the prize of the Bowling Green Kennel club. She has been in a number of the national fox hunters' association hunts, was a prize winner and highly bred.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars to any case of deafness, caused by catarrh, that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

WAGE SCALE.

OPERATORS AND MINE WORKERS STILL DISCUSSING IT AT LOUISVILLE.

The United Mine Workers and the operators of the south western district, embracing the state of Kentucky, are still in conference discussing the wage scale which is to go into effect April 1, says the Louisville Times. Both sides are confident an agreement will be reached, but there are so many features to discuss that it may require several days' time to bring it about.

The mine workers and operators joint committee met in the Allenmen's committee room at the city hall at 9 o'clock this morning and renewed the discussion over the scale and the hours of labor. President J. D. Wood, for the miners, has submitted the scale, which is an eight-hour day, at present, and an advance of about 15 per cent. in wages. This advance was considered a reasonable demand in view of the great prosperity which has obtained in the coal trade during the past year and the encouraging outlook for the coming year. The operators submitted a proposition to increase the hours of labor by making ten hours a day's work and reducing the wages 10 per cent.

These two widely divergent propositions are now being discussed by the representatives of both interests. The miners feel sure of their ground, though they are willing to make some concessions. Under no circumstances, however, will they agree to less than an eight-hour day.

PASSION PLAY.

INTERESTING ENTERTAINMENT—
AT CATHOLIC CHURCH TONIGHT.

The Passion Play given by the moving picture process will be given tonight at the Catholic church and it promises to be a very entertaining affair. It will be an exact picture of the famous scenes as enacted at Oberammergau. The entertainment comes highly recommended and will undoubtedly be worth seeing.

The performance will begin promptly at 8 o'clock and the admission is only 25 cents.

THE CADIZ RAILROAD.

MEETING TOMORROW TO COMPLETE ARRANGEMENTS FOR NEW ROAD.

The company organized for the Cadiz railroad meets tomorrow to complete arrangements, and decide on the route. A permanent board of directors and officers will be elected.

Dirt will be broken for the road bed early in April. The first 20 per cent of the $25,000 subscribed has nearly all been paid and will all be in by March 23.

Observationsat Random

The telephone girl is all right, but a great many people do not seem to appreciate her. In fact she is their pet aversion, and when a great many mean
men—and women, too, for that matter
—die and go where the bad people go the first person they will look for will be the telephone girl. It will be another case of where the editor went "bumming in Hades." All editors, of course, go to heaven, and if by hook or crook any of them chance to go to a warmer climate, it is only to investigate the methods of his satanic majesty for some celestial journal. The editor referred to—it's an old story—
went down, accompanied by an accommodating angel, to look around.
He stayed away from his guide and when the angel finally found him
again, he was sitting before a fiery furnace labelled "Delinquent Subscribers and Obnoxious Writers," highly excited over the sounds that came from with-
in. "Go on back," he said to the angel. "I'll just stay here; this is heaven enough for me!" So it would be with many people if they went to Hades and found the telephone girl.

But the telephone girl, bless her!
In a few years she will probably be a back number like the old time stage coach or Jim Corbett. It has been demonstrated that a telephone exchange can be operated without her.

A great many people have thought so for some time. In this progressive country everything superfluous—except W. J. Bryan—is removed as soon as proven so. Hence the telephone girl must go. In New Bedford Mass., one exchange has been in successful operation since November, and as some humorist once said, "What has been said can be did again."

In the new system, the subscriber
does not have to turn a crank in making a call, but first makes a series of connections, corresponding to the number he desires, and indicated by figures on a small dial, says the Literary Digest. The automatic apparatus at the exchange makes a corresponding series of motions until the number wanted is complete and the connections are made; a pressure of the button on the telephone of the subscriber calling then rings the bells of both the number called and of the one calling. One second is sufficient to make the connection representing any one figure in a numerical series, and one second is also ample time in which to press the button and get a ring at both telephones. Five seconds is thus the average time required to make calls on a system of numbers having four figures each. Conversation over the lines of the automatic system is said to be quite as clear and satisfactory as that to be had through manual exchanges.

"In the series of operations no person save the one calling has any part.
If the number called is already engaged with some third instrument,
the person calling can not break in on the conversation, but is automatically warned that the desired number is in use.

"The automatic exchange does with machinery what is done at a manual exchange by the operators, that is, it connects the calling telephone to the desired number. The operating-room
at such an exchange has no operators,
save the little machines that instantly respond to every signal sent over the lines from any subscriber. At New Bedford, only a single attendant is employed in the operating-room to look after the machines, and even he is absent a considerable part of the time. . . . A further important and distinctive feature . . . is the absolute secrecy of conversation over its lines. Not only is it impossible for any third subscriber to break
in on, or to overhear, the conversation between any two telephones, but no one at the exchange is in a position to listen to the talk of any subscriber, as an operator at a manual exchange may readily do. If any number called is shown to be busy by the automatic action of a buzzer, the call may be repeated as often as desired without disturbing the parties engaged in conversation, and the desired number may be obtained by a call as soon as it is released, without waiting for the attention of an exchange operator."

Verily, when all telephone exchanges are equipped thus, we will be indeed near the millennium, and there will be some hope even of street cars
that run without motormen.

Henceforth dealers in books will have to ask for their wares the full price which the publishers will print on the covers of new publications or forever after the book counters of outside dealers will be empty. An iron-clad agreement to this effect was made yesterday by the leading publishing houses of America. The sole exception will be made in the case of public libraries. The Publishers' association will establish an office and a corps of watchers in each large city.
This board will get the booksellers
and department stores to agree jointly on a uniform price and will employ detectives to see that the agreement is kept. The agreement will go into effect on May 19.

HEART DISEASE.

SOME FACTS REGARDING THE RAPID INCREASE OF HEART TROUBLE.

Heart trouble, at least among the Americans, is certainly increasing,
and while this may be largely due to the excitement and worry of American business life, it is more often the result of weak stomachs, of poor digestion.

Real organic disease is incurable;
but not one case in a hundred of heart trouble is organic.
The close relation between heart trouble and poor digestion is because both organs are controlled by the same great nerves, the Sympathetic and Pneumogastric.

In another way, also, the heart is affected by the form of poor digestion,
which causes gas and fermentation
from half digested food. There is a feeling of oppression and heaviness in the chest caused by pressure of the distended stomach on the heart and lungs, interfering with their action;
hence arises palpitation and short breath.

Poor digestion also poisons the blood, making it thin, and watery,
which irritates and weakens the heart.

The most sensible treatment for heart trouble is to improve the digestion and to insure the prompt assimilation of food.

This can be done by the regular use after meals of some safe, pleasant and effective digestive preparation, like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, which may be found at most drug stores, and which contain valuable, harmless digestive elements in a pleasant, convenient form.

It is safe to say that the regular persistent use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at meal time will cure any form of stomach trouble except cancer of the stomach.

Full sized packages of these tablets sold by druggists at 50 cents. Little book on stomach troubles mailed free.

COMMENT ON MCKINLEY'S IN-AGURAL MESSAGE IN
DEAR OLD LONDON.

London, March 8.—Commenting on the inaugural address of President McKinley, the Daily Chronicle remarks:

"Time in its progress creates burdens for us all. To ignore them is not to annul them. America, definitely, though perhaps unconsciously,
embarked on an expansionist policy when she declared war on Spain. Today she only recognized, through the month of her own act, the logical outcome of her own act."

The Morning Post:
"The splendid commercial successes achieved during the last three years
are results memorable at any time, but the more signal because they seem to promise still greater advantage for national industry in the future."

"If he succeeds in inducing the Republican party to regard the control of annexed regions, like Porto Rico, or protected lands, like Cuba, as something outside the ordinary com-flict of party, he will have laid a good foundation for the exercise of that influence which naturally belongs to a nation so powerful and so intelligent as the American Republic. The phrase in which this is urged upon them is admirably chosen to attract the popular support."

The afternoon papers here make little comment on the inauguration.
The Pall Mall Gazette thinks that "the speech, with its strong note of empire, contains a lesson for British pro-Boers."

It adds that a "true empire-maker
spoke on the subject of Cuba."
The Westminster Gazette finds that the term "close friendship" applied to Cuba, as an alternative to annexation, "is decidedly interesting."

THE BUFFALOES.

ARE YOU ONE?—IF NOT, YOU ARE LIABLE TO SOON BE.

The New Order in Paducah—Members Joining Rapidly—The Rules and By-Laws.

The Buffaloes have come to town. Mr. J. J. Bornschein was the first Paducahan to be initiated. Now there are scores of them.

"Are you a Buffalo?"

"Hello, Bill!"

This is what they say to one another.

The principles of the order are embodied in the trilogy of "cons"—conviviality, congeniality and converse. Everybody is eligible, men, women and boys. The association is known as the "Order of Buffaloes."

If you have eleven cents you can become a member. Any other Buffalo can initiate you, and in fact you can become a charter member and start in initiating among your own circle of friends at once. The mysteries of the order and its ritual will have to be explained by the supreme executive "Big Buffalo."

The ritual is too voluminous for publication.

The chief point of difference between the "Order of Buffaloes" and other orders lies in the initiation ceremony. Instead of riting the goat, the candidate is initiated into the mysteries of "chasing the duck." The ceremony is said to be delightfully impressive.

Another peculiar feature of the affair is the penalizing of the Buffalo Buck. Any violation of the regulations results in the transgressor "buying" without delay.

The following questions constitute the test by which a Buffalo satisfies himself as to a brother's standing:

"Are you a Buffalo?"

"I am a member of that order."

"Where came the Buffaloes?"

From Timbuctoo and Kalamazoo; yea, verily, from the ends of the earth.

"What are the duties of Buffalo?"

"The duties of a Buffalo are those dependent upon the three 'cons'—Conviviality, Congeniality and Converse."

"Give me the grip of a Buffalo?"

The last question is impossible to answer unless you are a true Buffalo.

The eleven rules governing the Order of Buffaloes are:

Rule 1—This order shall be known as the "Order of the Buffaloes."

Rule 2—Every male person of age of consent and ability to take a drink shall be eligible to membership.

Rule 3—The object of the order is to promote the trilogy of "cons"—Conviviality, Congeniality and Converse.

Rule 4—The sign of the order shall be "Upon a Tierce, Amber, the Tenderkin, Gals."

Rule 5—The grip of the order shall be the grasping of right hands, the index finger and thumb crossed—the right hand to be held behind the back, the left hand at the left ear, the thumb in the ear, the other fingers twiddled at pleasure.

Rule 6—The password shall be "Omar, Umar, Umar Ram"—spoken quickly in sequence, then each word repeated alternately forward and backward three times.

Rule 7—The initiation ceremony shall consist of the "cons," the cooking of the flesh pots and the breaking of the seal of the magnum.

Rule 8—Regular meeting shall be held every little while—whenever two or more Buffaloes get together.

Rule 9—The dues shall be 11 cents annually, collected on the monthly installment plan, if possible; if not whenever possible.

Rule 10—Postulants who crook the right instead of the left elbow during the initiation ceremony shall be saluted in the word "Duv." Failure to do so is at the pain of excommunication from the thirteen subsequent libations.

Rule 11—The lodge rooms shall be located, if possible, upon the corners where the highways intersect the byways.
